

Customised Holders for Cerulean's CETI 8

Following the successful CETI 8 button activation kit launch, Cerulean are now offering a customised button activation kit to hold your e-cigarettes during vaping and actuation.

With the ever-increasing number of complex designs of e-cigarettes, holding the device during vaping is becoming a challenge.

Cerulean can offer a tailored service to design and manufacture a custom holder for testing your samples.

The custom kit would comprise of:

- A standard base unit with button activation device
- A custom designed and manufactured holder that clips into the base unit
- A retaining strap to hold your device during vaping
